

GGIA Announces 2013 Event: WINTERgreen 2013, Georgia's Premier Horticulture Conference

Gwinnett Center, Duluth, GA
January 23-25, 2013

Epworth, GA, July 10, 2012- Georgia Green Industry Association (GGIA) has announced plans for WINTERgreen 2013, Georgia's Premier Horticulture Conference & Tradeshow on January 23-25, 2013 at the Gwinnett Center in Duluth, Georgia.

The Gwinnett Center is located 45 minutes north on I-85 from Atlanta's Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport and 30 minutes north on I-85 from downtown Atlanta.

Since the 1970's, GGIA's WINTERgreen Tradeshow has been Georgia's premier horticulture conference. We are deeply rooted in the industry's history, and we continue to grow for the betterment of the industry's future.

Every year, GGIA pushes the envelope to become more efficient, more useful and more knowledgeable about the industry issues and events to give you more for your time and money. This year is no different. From a broader educational structure covering every aspect of agriculture and horticulture taught by renowned leaders of Georgia and nationwide horticulture specialists, to a massive tradeshow floor filled with the region's best of the best, largest to smallest companies, the 2013 WINTERgreen Horticulture Tradeshow & Conference proves to be better than ever. Last year we introduced our "Book It Now Sweepstakes" at WINTERgreen. As a buyer, you can go to the booths of the participating exhibitors, buy their products, and be automatically qualified to win one of THREE great prizes! Last year winners received $100.00 Visa Gift Cards and the Grand Prize was a Apple iPad.

The Georgia Green Industry Association is a statewide trade organization for the horticulture industry in Georgia. With members from the landscape trade, irrigation contractors, wholesale nursery growers, greenhouse operators, retail garden centers and allied sales companies, GGIA serves as a true umbrella association for the entire horticulture industry.

More details will be released in the weeks to come. We welcome everyone to attend and/or exhibit. For further information, contact GGIA, P.O.
